SMITLEY IS SENTENCED; GETS A TERM TO HUNTINGDON.

Court Says Officers of Law Should Be Better Instructed on Duties Regarding Use of Weapons.

A BIG PETITION FROM DUNBAR.

Presented Asking Leniency for Smitley Who Killed Robert Larkin While Placing Him Under Arrest at Uniontown Some Months Ago.

UNIONTOWN, July 16.—At a short session of court this morning Adam Smitley, the Uniontown policeman who shot and killed Robert Larkin, of Dunbar, and who was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter at the June sessions, was sentenced to the Huntingdon Reformatory. Larkin it will be remembered went to Uniontown and became disorderly. Officer Smitley placed him under arrest and was taking him to the police station when he broke away. Smitley fired a shot at him and struck him in the back of the head, death resulting a few hours later. Smitley claimed that the shot had glanced and that it was not fired to kill but to scare. Attorney Cook McKean addressed the court at some length regarding Smitley's case, and asked that the court sentence him to Huntingdon Reformatory. He said that there were no elements of malice manifested in the commission of the deed, no fight, no general quarrel and no bad blood existed between the deceased and the officer. He killed the man in the line of his duty, and it was admitted that he did overstep his authority when he shot him, but that it was an unfortunate and not exactly criminal occurrence.

A petition signed by between 75 and 100 citizens of Dunbar asking the court's leniency was presented, as was also a petition from the Uniontown Council and police force, in which it was stated that Smitley was always a good officer and a good man. W. E. Crow also spoke a short time, saying that Smitley was no criminal and that it would be unfortunate to send him to a place where there were graduates in crime. Burgess Warner said that he had instructed the police regarding their duties, but that the Council had failed to instruct their men, and as Smitley was not among them, he was not thoroughly posted regarding his duties, and especially as to the use of firearms. He also spoke of the young man's wife, who was only 21 years old.

The court stated that it was a matter of regret that the officers of the law in all parts of the county were not better instructed regarding their duties, and especially regarding the carrying of weapons and the firing of them. In passing sentence the court said that it thought that the law would be vindicated and society satisfied by the sentence to the Huntingdon Reformatory.

LOST HIS LEG.

Joseph Walker, 60 Years Old, a Victim of Railroad Accident.

Joseph Walker, aged 60 years, a well known resident of town, while taking a walk in the upper B. & O. yards yesterday afternoon met with an accident which cost him the loss of his left foot. The cars ran over him. He was removed to the Cottage State hospital.

As a result of a quarrel with his wife Lee Jackson, colored, and a resident of town came to the hospital about 7 o'clock this morning with several cuts on his chest the largest one requiring about nine stitches. His wife threw a lamp at him. He left the hospital soon after his wounds were dressed.

A HARD HEAD.

Leisening Negro Shot Three Times and Is Little Worse for the Experience.

William Price, a Leisening No. 2 negro, had a lucky day yesterday, winning at a poker game and then being shot three times in the head and once in the arm, escaping with not serious wounds. Price and Jesse Garner, along with some other negroes, engaged in the game of poker near Leisening No. 2. Price won Garner a money and a quarrel started, which increased in fury as it was prolonged. Garner finally reached a murderous temper and whipping a revolver from his pocket used Price as a target. He hit the target each time of the four shots he fired. Three bullets hit Price's head, two of them taking a piece of scalp off, and the third hitting low on the back of the head and peeling its way along the side of it, then coming out the cheek. The other bullet struck in the fleshy part of the arm and is still embedded there.

After the shooting Price fled up his cranial and went to Uniontown, where he went before Squire John N. Lawson and made an information against Garner, charging him with felonious shooting with intent to kill and murder. He also notified County Detective McBeth and District Attorney Hudson, who have started a search for Garner. The latter disappeared immediately after the shooting.

Price then came to the Cottage hospital here, where he had his wounds dressed. He is still at the hospital today, although his injuries are not likely to prove fatal.

NEGRO SHOT.

Friendly Wrestling Bout in New Haven Ends in One of Contestants Being Wounded.

As a result of a quarrel which started yesterday afternoon at the residence of Albert Stephenson, colored, on Main street, New Haven, Andrew Fulton and Armstrong Fowler, also colored, were placed under arrest by policeman Joseph O'Brien and S. E. Nelson. They were given a hearing this morning before Burgess G. A. Markie and fined $5 each. It appears that the men had been drinking together and later commenced to wrestle.

Fowler threw Stepto down on the street after which Stepto went into the home of his mother and secured a revolver. In the scuffle which followed when Stepto appeared with the revolver it appears that Fowler secured possession of the weapon and fired at Stepto. Fowler alleged that the shooting was accidental. Stepto made his escape immediately after the shooting and it is not known if he was injured or not. The affair caused quite an excitement for a short time. The men are employed at Sligo works.

ITALIANS CELEBRATE.

Have a Parade and Attend Mass at Italian Catholic Church Today.

VIRGIN MARY PATRON SAINT.

Annual Custom of Honoring the Virgin is the Greatest Event of the Year With the Italian Roman Catholics—Fireworks Tonight.

Today is the greatest day in the year for Italian Catholics, the feast of the Virgin Mary, and the patron Saint of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Italian Catholic church of which Rev. De Sabato is pastor. The day is annually celebrated by all Italians and is a day of rest for them. Since the establishment of the Italian Catholic church in Connellsville there has always been a large celebration of the day, while the same ceremonies are also carried on in other neighborhoods where there is a large population of Italians.

Early this morning Italians from all over the city began gathering for the celebration and by nine o'clock there was a large crowd in town. The Italian band was upon the scene early. The musicians played their new uniforms and were then for the first time. The parade moved from the church at 10:30 o'clock and passed over the principal streets. It was headed by the Italian band followed by the church societies. About fifty small girls in white were a pretty feature of the procession.

After returning to church, Solemn High Mass was begun at 10:50 o'clock. Rev. De Sabato began the celebration. Khoros' orchestra furnished the music and a splendid augmented choir sang the service. It was impossible for the great gathering, numbering 1,000 to get within the doors of the little church and many stood with bared head while the services were going on.

The church was magnificently decorated for the occasion. The statues of the Virgin Mary were enshrouded to the left of the altar by a huge canopy, magnificently decorated. Two columns on each side set off the canopy. On the right hand side of the church was the life sized statue of St. Joseph in a similar canopy and decorations. The Saint carried the infant Christ in his arms. The decorations of pretty cloth were set off by profuse decorations of flowers and hundreds of brightly burning candles. The services lasted two hours.

The celebration will close this evening with a grand display of fireworks at the Marietta-Stillwagon track between 8 and 9 o'clock. J. Condi, of New Castle will have charge

She was proceeded on the charge by Mrs. Sarah Tremblay of South Connellsville.

Williams was prosecutor against minors for violating the mining laws the following disposition was made: Mike Muehler, pay the costs; John Lachnick, $25 fine and costs; William Horan, who pleaded guilty to larceny and receiving stolen goods, was sentenced to Morgantown. He was charged by J. H. Byers with breaking open a car on the Monacahele railroad near Morgantown and stealing a box of cigars valued at $2.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Regular Semi-Monthly Session Scheduled for This Evening.

Tonight is regular semi-monthly meeting of the Town Council. President Porter was asked if a meeting would be held and said that he supposed it would. It was thought that the display of fireworks to be given tonight by the Italians at Marietta-Stillwagon park might be an excuse for not holding a meeting, but this is stated will not interfere.

It is expected that the paving of Arch street between Peach street and White avenue will be taken up and passed upon. It is also stated that several new ordinances will be presented for action and that the 70th street grading may be taken up.

OUT ON WAR PATH.

David Madden, Negro, Knocked Wife Down and Gets Ten Days.

MADE TROUBLE FOR THE POLICE

Two State Constables Being Called in to Help Subdue the Obstreperous Negro—Other Sentences Imposed This Morning in Police Court.

David Madden, a negro, residing at 321 E. 14th street, went upon the warpath last night, knocked his wife down, and gave two policemen and two State Constables all they could do to take him to the police station. A 34 calibre revolver, almost as big as a gun loaded in the molen, Officer McBeth was called to the Madden home, but that worthy was helpless and the State officers came to his aid. Officer Mitts also joined in. Madden had just landed a stiff blow upon his wife's hip and she was down and out as soon as his fist connected. He then started out to clean the neighborhood and the officers found him toying with his gun. When he saw the number of men that were after him he threw his pistol away but it was secured by the officers and brought along to the police station where it was looked upon with curiosity by even the State Police, who think they have big pistols.

This morning before Acting Burgess George Porter, Madden said that he was cheating the sun and got scared when he saw all the police after him. He admitted throwing it away. He said he did give his wife a crack across the jaw. His wife testified that he beat her shamefully, and that she is sick. "A poor little weak woman," was no match for the burly fellow. One of her lips was swollen far beyond its natural shape and her clothing was matted with blood. Madden was given 10 days on the charge of disorderly conduct and an information was made this morning before Magistrate Frank Miller charging him with carrying concealed weapons and resisting arrest. The woman was dismissed and said that she would like it away from Connellsville.

Charles Sims of Silgo Row was taken in by State Police William Durkin. William Mickel alleged that he was a sick man and that Sims gave him an awful beating just because he could do it. Sims denied the charge, but information at hand went to prove that he had committed the deed. He was given five days in the lockup.

Droight Shigeki of McChure wandered away from home yesterday and got an overdose of joy water. He went to sleep on North Pittsburg street, but his chambers were disturbed by the police. He was fined $3.50.

John Anderson of Dunbar, when the charge was read to him supposed that it was correct, "because there was no use denying." He was under the impression that he could raise the fine of $3.50 he was assessed.

ON VACATION.

BONDS TOO SMALL.

Cases of the Short Line Extension in Dunbar Township Argued This Morning.

UNIONTOWN, July 16.—Arguments were made this morning in the exceptions taken by the Connellsville Gas and Coal Company to the O. & F. Short Line in the filing of bond in the sum of $7,500, to secure the company against damages for the extension of the Short Line in Dunbar township. The company is extending its line to "Dunbar" and has taken up a cut six acres of the Connellsville Gas and Coal Company's land. A bond in the sum of $7,500 was filed and the exceptions were taken by W. J. Johnson, attorney for the coal company, who appeared to argue the exception this morning. Mr. Johnson claimed that the company should be between $35,000 and $100,000. Attorney D. W. McDonald, representing the railroad company, said the company would not agree to that price. It was argued at great length and the court suggested that about $15,000 would possibly be acceptable. The attorneys could not state positively regarding this and stated that they would take the matter up with their companies for a decision.

In the case of the O. & F. Short Line and Thomas and Catherine Kerns of Dunbar for $2,000 indemnity bond for securing against damages to property, the bond was approved.

The bond of the M. F. & P. Railroad Company in the sum of $300 to indemnify Isaac H. Brownfield at that damages for the taking of ground for a switch in South Union township was approved.

The bond of $1,500 to indemnify Mary D. N. Wampler for damages for the taking of property in Dunbar township was approved and the company ordered to file a bond of $500 additional.

PER DIEM CHARGE APPLICATION.

There Are 250 Owners of Individual Cars in This Country and They Have Millions Invested in 130,000 Cars.

Owners of individual cars are preparing to take action on the handling of their cars by the railroads, and in order to formulate plans and get the best opinions as to what may be accomplished, a meeting has been called to take place in Cleveland, August 1 and 2. It is stated that there are 250 owners of individual cars who have their capital invested in 130,000 cars, the majority of them being of the best type. The average value is placed at $1,000.

Robert J. Bailey, acting as temporary secretary has issued a call for the meeting, at which it is hoped an association will be formed to take up the matter. The letter in part is as follows:

At present the most pressing question is the charging of the individual car on an equal basis with that of the railroad company car and the application of the per diem charge to also govern the use of the individual car when delayed.

The control which the owners of individual cars have had in the past has never been such as they desire, and unless some concerted action is taken soon it will be altogether taken away. "In unity there is strength," and with an association representing over 250 owners and the capital invested in over 130,000 cars, much can be done.

Francis J. Robbins, President of the Monacahele River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company, is enthusiastic for the movement, as well as John H. Jones of the Pittsburg and Buffalo Coal Company. Mr. Robbins thinks so well of it that he has directed General Counsel Charles G. McNeil to accompany him to the Cleveland meeting. Mr. Jones said he would do all in his power to further it and that he would attend.

Mr. Bailey, who is connected with the sales department of the River Coal Company of Pittsburgh, conceived the idea of such an organization among car owners. He said that the reason so many cars were built and owned by interest, outside the railroads was that some years ago the growth of business was hindered by lack of cars for transporting freight, the railroads being far behind in their facilities. The firms began building their own cars, and recently the railroads have been catching up and, Mr. Bailey says, do not seem to care where individual cars go after the freight is handled from mine to mill.

Mr. Bailey gave a very vivid illustration of one source of complaint when he said that a car of coal left the mines of his company October 10, 1906, and failed for Parkville, Pa. After the cargo was delivered the car went to Santa Barbara, Cal. It was delivered on the return home to the Chicago & Northwestern January 25, at Omaha. Then it was run over roads in Illinois and Wisconsin and finally over the U. N. & W. C. M. & St. Paul and Wisconsin Central and others, and was finally loaded out of the company's mines July 15.—During all the time after it left Parkville it had not been in possession of its owners. He has big sacks of letters bearing on the movement of this one car.

Mr. Bailey said that owners of individual cars had no agreement with the railroads for the care of their cars because when they were trying to make terms the conditions imposed by the railroads were so binding that it was considered best to make no agreement at all. This is one thing that could be remedied through an association.

Mr. Bailey has gone to considerable trouble to make an approximate estimate of the number and classification of cars owned by different interests outside the railroads. These show that there are 14,631 coal and coke cars owned by Pittsburgh concerns, 2,325 in Cleveland, 8,269 in Philadelphia, and 4,284 in Baltimore. New York is credited with nearly 16,000 tank cars, but as these are mostly owned by the Standard Oil Company, whose interests are closely allied with the railroads, little co-operation is expected from that source. There are 50,000 stock and box cars, mainly owned by the packing interests in the West.

VANDERBILT.

Personal Chat From Fayette County's New Borough.

VANDERBILT, July 15.—A report is going the rounds that H. B. McBurney, the grocer of Fayette, was going to quit business to accept a position in Uniontown. Mr. McBurney states that the report is unfounded and he will continue to do business at the old stand.

DAWSON.

Live Notes From the Busy Little Town Down the Yough.

DAWSON, July 15.—The Dawson baseball team put it all over the Connellsville Independents at Edgemoor Park, Scottdale, Monday afternoon, the score being 10 to 3.

Dawson was a little off in fielding in the first two innings, when Connellsville scored their three runs. After the second Dawson settled down and played nice ball.

Ringer pitched a good game for Dawson and should have scored a shutout. Score, Dawson 10, Connellsville 3. Batteries, Dawson, Ringer and Moore; Connellsville, Sheets and Moore. Umpire, Barfoot.

The Dawson School Board met last night and elected the following teachers for the winter term: Principal, W. G. Wiley; Room No. 3, Jesse Boyd; No. 2, Margaret Snider; No. 1, Alpha French. These are the same teachers that taught here last winter.

Alvin Cochran has issued an invitation for a dance to be given on Thursday evening, July 25.

BOY SHOT.

Brownsville Youth Meets Tragic End While Playing With a Revolver.

BROWNSVILLE, July 16.—As the result of a number of boys handling a revolver, Harold Kirk, a 13 year old boy, was killed here yesterday afternoon by the discharge of the gun.

Kirk and a number of young companions were standing in front of the Central Presbyterian church examining the gun and some one of the boys slipped a cartridge into it.

A few seconds later there was a report and Kirk exclaimed that he was shot.

The young fellow was hurried to the office of Dr. Lilly, but he was past medical attention and died within a few minutes after arriving there.

Dr. Lilly discovered that the bullet had severed the trachea, or wind pipe, and had then struck the jugular vein, forcing all of the blood from the head into the lungs.

The boy literally drowned in his own blood.

The lad was perfectly conscious up until two minutes before his death.

The scene was a very tragic one as he left word with his boy companions to bid his parents goodbye and bid each one of his playmates a last farewell.

CLAIMS HE WAS ROBBED.

Connellsville Negro Touched by $19 in Uniontown.

J. W. Plunk, a Connellsville negro, claims he was robbed of $19 in Uniontown on Sunday.

Gus Wilson, a negro, is locked up charged with the crime. The prisoner denies that he took the money.

At his hearing Monday morning before Burgess Worman he was put through a strenuous examination by the Chief Executive who ended by finding Wilson a deep regret at his handling of him as a prisoner of far more than 30 days, the limit of the Burgess' authority.

Besides taking the money Wilson was charged with behaving himself in a very ungentlemanly manner. An information will be made on the larceny charge.

BAD MAN BARTOE.

Scared Woman With a Story of Roast.

WASHINGTON, Pa., July 14.—(Special.)—James Bartoe, a denuded inmate of the city hospital, escaped last evening and for several hours terrified residents in the vicinity.

He first went to the home of J. N. White and told the family that he had run away from the hospital and asked them to conceal him.

They refused, whereupon he made a vicious attack upon Mrs. White and her daughter, chasing them upstairs.

When Bartoe reached the second floor he hurried up to the attic, where he secured a place of refuge with which he beat out the window.

He was overpowered by White and neighbors and taken back to the hospital.

INTO THE RIVER.

Automobile Makes a 25-Foot Jump With Its Occupants.

UNIONTOWN, July 16.—[Special.] A sudden dash over an embankment and a swift drop of 25 feet into the Cheat river was taken along the road near Cheat Haven by an automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. George L. White and son Wilfred of Uniontown and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bridges and daughter of Morgantown were riding.

The occupants fell with the machine into the river, but no one was injured and the machine was not damaged.

Bridges was driving and in ascending a hill struck wet ground and the machine began to slide.

Chains were not on the wheels and Bridges could not control the car, which backed over the bank.

FINDS $500 RING IN SHOE.

Had Been Advertised and Detectives Were Seeking Clues.

The mystery of the disappearance of a $500 diamond ring belonging to Mrs. C. L. Clarke six months ago was solved today by the finding of it by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Harriet Clarke.

When Mrs. Clarke put on a shoe yesterday which she had not worn for a long time, she felt something in it.

Taking the shoe off, she found the valuable stone. Mrs. Clarke had advertised in the newspapers for it and had detectives hunting for clues.

USE AND ABUSE OF INDIVIDUAL CARS.

The coal and coke interests owning individual cars are organizing a movement looking toward better control over their property, which they say has almost departed from them under present practices.

The general supposition has been that shippers who own their own cars have been more highly favored than those who do not. This may have been true in some cases, particularly in the beginning of such ownership but it is evidently not so now, certainly not when individual cars from the Pittsburgh district are being shipped all over the country, handling all kinds of traffic, and are not seen by the owners for six months at a time.

Individual cars have been built chiefly because the railroads were unable to supply the demand, and the principal benefit to their owners has consisted in the assurance afforded them of better freight movement accruing therefrom. The cars were built for individual use and that use was either positively or inferentially guaranteed, else there would have been no inducement to build them. It is a violation of the natural rights of the owners to use these cars for general traffic, and this will be the basis of the protest against existing methods of handling them.

There is room for too much discrimination in private ownership of any portion of railroad rolling stock, and it should be abolished. The railroads should buy all individual cars at a fair valuation, and should hereafter be compelled to furnish them in kind and quantity sufficient to meet the requirements of traffic.

CIRCULATION CLAIMS AND CIRCULATION FACTS.

Our esteemed purveyor of perfilled pretension, The News, rambles and rambles around among the disseminators of information in a rather aimless way, but discovers no real differences of opinion between us concerning this subject.

It agrees that the newspapers are the best disseminators of information and the cheapest, and that the amounts spent by any candidates for this sort of publicity do not necessarily prove circulation claims.

The meat of the matter is contained in the concluding paragraph, which says: "To The Courier's brag, good and offer to have a committee appointed to investigate circulation. The News pays no attention."

This is quite true. The Courier has made the same offer a number of times before and it has always been refused. The Connelville merchants have drawn their own conclusions as to the reason for these repeated refusals on the part of The News to prove circulation.

The challenge has never been made by The Courier in a spirit of "braggadocio," but always in response to the claim on the part of The News, expressed impliedly, that its circulation was greater than that of The Courier. The advertiser, we take it, is not interested in circulation "chisms." He wants circulation facts.

HORSE SHOW.

The Annual Event Opened Today at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 16.—[Special.]—With a blare of trumpets and a flutter of finery the annual exhibition of the Atlantic City Horse Show Association was opened today at Inlet Park. The list of entries is the largest in the history of the Association, many of the finest horses from New York, Philadelphia and other cities being here. The show will last during the week, ending with Saturday afternoon. Some of the prizes this year are unusually handsome. The hotels are crowded to the limit the boarding houses catching the overflow of visitors.

SOMERSET OUT.

Parkersburg May Take Place in the West Penn League Made Vacant by Piedmont's Dropping.

PAIRMONT, W. Va., July 16.—[Special.]—Southeast, at the last minute, flunked, and that town will not become a member of the West Penn League. Last Friday the gentleman at the head of the Somerset association notified President Power that everything was all right. The schedule was announced and all arrangements made for going ahead. Saturday night, however, word was received from Somerset that everything was off. President Power immediately upon his arrival here last night got in communication with the baseball enthusiasts of Parkersburg, W. Va., and it now seems certain that that city will secure the franchise.

President Power of the West Penn League and President Haymond of the Piedmont club will go to Parkersburg today, having arranged to have a conference with citizens of that city Tuesday afternoon. Parkersburg is the second largest city in the State, and, while a little out of the way, it is believed that its admission will be a big help to the league.

BIGGEST RATTLER.

John H. Nedrow Killed Snake 5 1/2 Feet Long With 15 Rattles.

The biggest rattlesnake reported this season in Fayette county was an immense one 5 1/2 feet long and adorned with 15 rattles which was killed Wednesday, July 10, near Jamonsville by John H. Nedrow. It was the biggest snake ever seen in that part of the county and it is reported that its body was as large around as a five pound lard can.

Mr. Nedrow could have captured his snakeship alive, but feared that in doing so his pet dog would be bitten and he accordingly dispatched the reptile with a club and broke six rattles in killing it.

The place where this snake was killed is about one and a half miles from the famous Snake Den, a big ledge of rocks which is infested with rattlesnakes. The boys from the Soldiers' Orphans' School often go there on snake killing expeditions.

Capt. J. H. Simpson Getting Ready for Encampment.

Captain J. H. Simpson, of Company D, N. C. P., is making the final arrangements for leaving for the annual encampment of the National Guard at Tipton. He will have fifty enlisted men in his company when he leaves Connelville on Thursday evening.

The baggage will be taken in shape for shipment tomorrow and will be loaded on Thursday.

... Company has been very active lately in drilling and it is expected that the boys will make a splendid showing at the encampment.

The soldiers are all anxious for the outing and many will consider the encampment their vacation, although some very hard work may have to be done.

BOYS GO CAMPING.

Local Party Will Have Outing on Little Whitley Creek.

Frank May, Richard Ryan, Harry Withers, John and Edwin Orsling and Joseph Bradley, composed a camping party that left this morning over the Pennsylvania railroad for the vicinity of Gray's Landing where they will camp along the Little Whitley creek for the next two weeks. The camp will be known as "Camp Colonia."

The boys went with almost half a car of baggage and the morning Pennsylvania train was held up several minutes in the loading of it.

BASEBALL RESULTS

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized from the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLLOW.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

"What, Mr. Ryder, you mean that you are going to help my father?"

"Not for his sake, for yours," he answered frankly.

Shirley hung her head. In her moment of triumph she was sorry for all the hard things she had said to this man. She held out her hand to him.

"Forgive me," she said gently. "It was for my father. I had no faith. I thought your heart was of stone."

Impulsively he drew her to him. He clasped her two hands in his, and, looking down at her kindly, he said awkwardly:

"So it was; so it was! You accomplished the miracle. It's the first time I've acted on pure sentiment. Let me tell you something. Good sentiment is bad business, and good business is bad sentiment. That's why a rich man is generally supposed to have such a hard time getting into the kingdom of heaven." He laughed and went on: "I've given $10,000,000 a piece to three universities. Do you think I'm fool enough to suppose I can buy my way? But that's another matter. I'm going to Washington on behalf of my father because I want you to marry my son. Yes, I want you in the family, close to us. I want your respect, my girl. I want your love. I want to earn it. I know I can't buy it. There's a weak spot in every man's armor, and this is mine. I always want what I can't get, and I can't get your love unless I earn it."

MOOSE IN CAPTIVITY.

Not Difficult to Domesticate, but Hard to Keep Alive.

Shirley remained pensive. Her thoughts were on Long Island at Massapequa. She was thinking of their joy when they heard the news—her father, her mother and Stott. She was thinking of the future, bright and glorious with promise again now that the dark clouds were passing away. She thought of Jefferson, and a soft light came into her eyes as she foresaw a happy wifehood shared with him.

"Why so sober?" demanded Ryder. "You've gained your point. Your father is to be restored to you. You'll marry the man you love."

"I'm so happy!" murmured Shirley. "I don't deserve it. I had no faith."

Ryder released her and took out his watch.

"I leave in fifteen minutes for Washington," he said. "Will you trust me to go alone?"

"I trust you gladly," she answered, smiling at him. "I shall always be grateful to you for letting me convert you."

"You won't be over last night," he rejoined, "when you put up that fight for your father. I made up my mind that a girl so loyal to her father would be loyal to her husband. You think," he went on, "that I do not love my son. You are mistaken. I do love him, and I want him to be happy. I am capable of more affection than people think. It is Wall Street," he added bitterly, "that has crushed all sentiment out of me."

Shirley laughed nervously, almost hysterically.

"I want to laugh, and I feel like crying," she cried. "What will Jefferson say? How happy he will be!"

"How are you going to tell him?" inquired Ryder uneasily.

"I shall tell him that his dear, good father has returned, and—"

"No, my dear," he interrupted, "you will say nothing of the sort. I draw the line at the dear, good father act. I don't want him to think that it comes from me at all."

"But," said Shirley, puzzled, "I shall have to tell him that you—"

"What?" exclaimed Ryder. "Acknowledge to my son that I was wrong, that I've seen the error of my ways and wish to repent? Excuse me!" he added grimly. "It's got to come from him. He must see the error of his ways."

"But the error of his way," laughed the girl, "was falling in love with me. I can never prove to him that that was wrong."

The hunter refused to be convinced. He shook his head and said stubbornly:

"Well, he must be put in the wrong somehow, or other. Why, my dear child, he won't let you say that he has been waiting all his life for an opportunity to say to me, 'Father, I knew I was in the right, and I knew you were wrong.' Can't you see," he asked, "what a false position it places me in? Just picture his triumph!"

"He'll be too happy to triumph," objected Shirley.

Feeling a little ashamed of his attitude, he said:

"I suppose you think I'm very obstinate." Then as she made no reply he added, "I wish I didn't care what you thought."

Shirley looked at him gravely for a moment, and then she replied seriously:

"Mr. Ryder, you're a great man, you're a genius, you're full of action, energy, achievement. But it appears to be only the good, the noble and the true that you are ashamed of. When your money triumphs over principle, when your political power defeats the ends of justice, you glory in your victory. But when you do a kindly, generous, fatherly act, when you with a grand and noble victory over yourself, you are ashamed of it. It was a kind, generous impulse that has prompted you to save my father and take your son and myself to your heart. Why are you ashamed to let him see it? Are you afraid he will love you? Are you afraid I shall love you?"

TRI-STATE NEWS.

Events of the Day in Brief from Pennsylvania, Ohio and W. Va.

Findlay, O., July 16.—Joe Dietrick while witnessing a ball game fell over dead. He had been eating green apples.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 16.—Charles Ely of Harrisville, O., despondent over ill health, cut his throat. But slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Idaho, O., July 16.—C. W. Myers, arrested on an insanity affidavit, declares his wife is endeavoring to send him to the madhouse to be rid of him.

Brownsville, Pa., July 16.—White Harold Kirk and Samuel Speer were playing with a revolver. He was accidentally fired and the Kirk boy, age 12, fell dead. They are said not to have known that it was loaded.

Philadelphia, July 16.—Thomas Laidley, age 74, of Port Jervis, N. Y., died in a hospital of apoplexy. Mr. Laidley came here to attend the convention of the Elks. He was one of the oldest members of the organization.

New Castle, Pa., July 16.—Dr. W. C. Steeniff of Newmarket Falls has been declared by Judge Porter an unfit person to have the custody of his daughter, Bertha Granger, who was placed in charge of the Volunteers of America.

Harrisburg, July 16.—Announcement is made of a meeting of the board of parsons on Wednesday of this week for consideration of the capital cases postponed from last meeting on July 9 and other cases listed for July.

Mansfield, O., July 16.—Edward Reyher is almost crazed by grief following the death of his son, Harold Whittemore, age 24 years. Harold wanted her uncle to play with her. "Let's play soldier," she cried. Reyher picked up an old musket, loaded it and saying "Lookout I'm going to shoot you!" pointed it at the child. The gun was discharged, the lead passing through the baby's neck. She lived but a few hours.

Toledo, O., July 16.—Motions in arrest of judgment have been filed in the lumber, brick and building cases. The attorneys for the companies appear to hold that sentencing their efforts to the workhouse is in contravention of practically all the articles of the constitution of the United States and an undoubted outrage on the rights and privileges of said clients. They allege that the judgment of the court is a violation of the article providing against "cruel and unusual punishment," and also of the provision that all laws shall be of "general operation."

"The reason so few moose are seen in captivity in the parks and circuses of the country is not because they are naturally too wild to be domesticated, but because they usually do not live long in captivity," said a St. Paul man. "My father was for many years a settler in northern Minnesota, and at different times in his experience he had three moose on his homestead which recognized him as their master. "All the animals were captured when they were very young, and in each instance it took them only a few days to become apparently attached to father and his small farm. For two or three weeks he would keep them penned in and then would allow them to roam around at will. They would be shot for two or three hours, or perhaps half a day at a time, but always came back all right. By allowing them the run of the premises this way they met practically the same conditions as if they were wild in the forest, and therefore were always in good health, but the moment any of them were shipped to the city a change was noticeable. "Two of the animals were sold to city park associations at different times, and in each instance the moose finally died. They seemed willing enough to remain in the parks, but conditions were not such as they were used to, and from the first it was to be seen that they were failing in health. A moose can stand all sorts of hardships in the woods, but when he is in captivity lack of exercise or lack of proper food or lack of something else puts him on the down grade, and as a rule he passes in his checks in a few weeks or a few months at the outside. "One of the animals my father owned was a handsome bull, and he was trained to harness. The animal could pull a good sized load and travel through the woods with a slight hitching at a very lively clip. This third moose was one day shot by a hunter near the house. So all three animals met with an untimely fate, which goes to prove, I suppose, that man should not monkey with the plans of nature."—Duluth Herald.

Idea of the Soul.

The old Egyptians thought the soul was a bird with a human face and human hands, which, on the death of him in whom it dwelt on earth, flew to the gods, its kin. Drawings and sculptured figures show this little winged soul, sometimes represented as perched by the sarcophagus, touching the mummy. In later times it was shown as a butterfly, and in the Campo Santo of Pisa in Orcagna's fresco of the "Triumph of Death."

In northern lands we learn from folklore the soul not seldom left the body as a mouse, or a snake. It was on the former superstition that the story of the Bishop of Hatto was based and also, as some say, that of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

A Comparison.

"I admit I have the funt you mention," said the consoled man, self-complacently, "but it's the only fault I have, and it's a small one."

"Yes," replied Knox, "just like the small hole that makes a plugged nickel no good."—Philadelphia Press.

QUAKER CITY ABLAZE

Staid Old Municipality Welcomes Visiting Elk Herds in Royal Fashion.

GOV. STUART MAKES ADDRESS

Tenders Freedom of State to Visitors and Mayor Reburn Does Likewise for City—Grand Lodge Meets To-day—Parade on Thursday.

Philadelphia, July 16.—The 43d grand lodge session of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was formally opened here last night at the Grand opera house when the visiting delegates and members were welcomed to the city on behalf of the Elks' reunion committee by Daniel J. Shearer. He said he would leave it to the visitors to say whether the promises made to the convention at Denver last year that the Elks would be royally welcomed to the Quaker City had been fulfilled. The delegates shouted in chorus, "Philadelphia's promises are good."

Congressman J. Hampton Moore made the address of welcome on behalf of Philadelphia lodge No. 2 and referred to the glorious reception tendered by the city as an indication of its progressiveness and hospitality. Mayor Reburn greeted the delegates on behalf of the municipality. The mayor, who has done everything he can to make the meeting a success and to see that the visitors were accorded a hearty welcome, tendered the freedom of the city. He said he was glad of the opportunity to show the world at large that Philadelphia was not as bad as painted. W. N. Carr welcomed the visitors and delegates to the grand lodge on behalf of the Elks lodge of Pennsylvania.

Gov. Edwin S. Stuart welcomed the Elks to the state of Pennsylvania. In greeting the order the governor said it was fitting that the Elks, essentially an American organization, should be warmly received in the city of brotherly love and in a state to which their coming must awaken memories of a history dear to every patriotic heart. As a citizen of Philadelphia he said he was proud to welcome the Elks and as the head of the municipality he tendered them a perfect freedom so he would do on behalf of the state.

Grand Exalted Ruler Judge H. A. Melvin responded to the welcomes. The reception accorded the Elks, he said, by the city of Philadelphia by the state of Pennsylvania and by the citizens within its borders was such as none could anticipate. In his own stricken city of San Francisco he said he heard of Philadelphia as ultra-conservative—a slow town—but no longer could he believe such stories. The decorations, electrical displays, court of honor and the general arrangements made for the entertainment of visitors he described as magnificent. Particularly did he dwell upon the beauties of the decorations which he said surpassed anything of the kind he had ever seen. The Elks he said, appreciated the generosity of the citizens of Philadelphia and while here they would try to show by their conduct that they were deserving of the reception.

The first session of the grand lodge will be held today, and while nearly all of the delegates are in the city each train continues to bring in delegations from various lodges who will participate in the parade on Thursday morning.

WIFE CHOOSES NO. 1

Who Returns Home Years After Her Marriage to Another.

Clarinda O. July 16.—Thomas Keefe, mourned as dead for a quarter of a century, returned to Clarinda today to find his wife wedded to Samuel Dixon and living happily. Keefe was a passenger on the steamer Scotia, which collided with the steamer Leon in the Ohio river July 4, 1882. He was never seen by his friends after that disaster and his family supposed he was dead. In the meantime Mrs. Keefe married Dixon. Saturday Keefe's son, now 27 years of age, received a message from Woodstock, O., that his father was alive and working in the oil fields there. On the following day he talked with his father over the telephone and Keefe came to visit his wife and son.

He was hospitably entertained at the Dixon home and after a discussion between Keefe, Dixon and the woman she decided her duty was to elope to her first husband. Farewells were spoken and the assisted Dixon to pack his suitcase. He left the house and spent the night at the home of a friend.

ANSWER FILED

In Suit Brought to Recover for an Electrical Job.

UNIONTOWN, July 16.—Isaac H. Brownfield has filed an answer to the suit of W. L. Helmeley of Uniontown. Helmeley was engaged to do the electrical work upon 32 ovens. He was to furnish the work and material and let the contract. In his answer Brownfield alleges that he did not agree to pay 50 cents per hour for skilled labor and 25 cents per hour for helpers. He did not agree to pay extra for Sunday work. According to the agreement he alleges that the work was to have been completed within one week and owing to the fact that it was not done he was compelled to charge his ovens with horses which cost him $675 per day, while the cost for electricity was $1 per day.

He therefore alleges that instead of paying Helmeley anything, the latter owes him $675. He further alleges that he had a bid for the work at $130 and that he had already paid $125 to Helmeley.

MORE DEATHS

Will Result From Explosion on Battle Ship Georgia.

Publishers' Press Telegram. BOSTON, July 16.—Four names are yet to be added to the list of dead from yesterday's powder blast in the aft upper turret of the battleship Georgia. Midshipman James T. Cruise and a man James J. Walsh are dying, and it is said several others will have hard fights for their lives.

The big battleship is practically uninjured. The official board of inquiry will be hampered by the fact that all those nearest the bag of powder when it took fire are dead. The most general belief is that the powder was fired by a spark, but whether it came from the turret outside or from a partially consumed piece of gun wadding inside the turret may never be definitely decided. There were 22 men in the turret when the accident happened.
